Lord, You Are My Sanctuary

2010-12

when i tried to understand all this it was oppressive to me till i entered the sanctuary of god psalm 73 16 17 niv as christians most of us understand that christ s crucifixion and resurrection give us eternal life but how many also know that we have the power to conquer more than just physical death when common life experiences such as rejection divorce and broken dreams take their toll they can deaden emotional and spiritual places inside us that means that even while living we all in some form or another have the facility to die fortunately god has a plan in place to help us overcome such internal death and that plan starts with him becoming our living sanctuary our safe place in times of trouble but he cannot be that for us until we let him in lord you are my sanctuary author julie kuykendall guides us on the pathway that leads to the mighty fortress that is christ then gives us an alluring yet realistic glimpse of what lies inside in short a resurrection power with the astonishing capacity to help us not only conquer death but also as it did for the psalmist bring our lives sharply into focus is the turning point of human history the jesus of the cross or the christ of the resurrection we live on this side of the resurrection yet we act as if we are on the far side of the crucifixion staring into the cross from the good friday perspective makes it difficult to see beyond it it consumes us it blocks our vision even though we understand in our minds there was a sunday we continue to stand in our hearts on friday are we missing life in the brilliant light of the resurrection try to imagine the profound transformation from the disciples broken spirit on friday to their heart stopping joy on sunday evening transformation was truly so wrenching there could never be a return to their pre resurrection world they began to see the cross through the lens of the resurrection every time the risen lord became their launching pad for faith and from that glorious platform they reached back and embraced his crucifixion it should be the same for us

Life-Study of Philippians

i am the resurrection and the life shares the truth that every person who has ever lived or will ever live on this earth falls under all of humanity falls into one of these two classes believer or non believer jesus christ made it clear and precise that when the people of this earth accept the message of the gospel and receive the him as lord and savior they then pass from death into life this book explains how a non believer can receive life from the lord jesus christ just as the father is the source of life and the giver of life the son also is able to give life to others this is a distinct statement as to the deity of jesus christ and as to his equality with the father god the father has given jesus the authority to be the judge of all humanity in the world shedding light on the gospel grace d balogun explains to believers the power that is available to them as co heirs with christ come and learn that you are seated in heavenly places with christ and come to understand the power and glory of god as your life is conformed to the image of christ through his resurrection filled with rich scripture and written from a sound biblical perspective this book encourages maturity in the lord to follow him in all things this is a must read for the believer and the non believer alike today is the day of salvation take hold of the gospel of truth and pass from death to life in jesus christ eschatological glory is a significant motif in romans that has failed to garner the attention it deserves donald berry argues that glory lies at the heart of paul s redemptive historical framework and is an integral part of the gospel paul proclaims in romans for paul eschatological glory is the realization of god s purpose for adam and for israel to see and to show forth the glory of god this divine purpose finds fulfillment in christ and in the new humanity he creates those who now have hope of the glory of god rom 5 2 paul s letter to the romans provides stunning glimpses into the nature of this eschatological glory and the hope that believers have in christ through careful and compelling exegesis berry brings to light paul s conception of glory and its place at the center of god s purposes in redemptive history while providing crucial insights into romans this study also contributes more broadly to pauline theology and to the field of biblical theology it highlights paul s understanding of a unified divine purpose that runs through creation and redemption god s desire to display his nature and character in all of creation through image bearers who share in and reflect his glory through a careful reading of several ancient texts such as chariton s callirhoë fullmer identifies an ancient storytelling convention with roots in the homeric tradition in which narratives of death and revival accentuate significant points in a story in mark s gospel resurrection narratives accentuate the power of jesus ministry mark 5 21 43 as well as the ironic disloyalty of jesus disciples as their failure is first assured mark 9 14 29 and later realized mark 16 1 18 the reader of this study will come to appreciate how the irony of the gospel a literary feature that is prominent in novelistic literature is furthered by a novelistic application of the resurrection theme these observations affirm an identification of the genre of the gospel as novelistic literature the study also examines themes of death and revival in texts of the hebrew bible revealing a recurrent constellation of motifs in these texts fullmer convincingly traces a prophetic resurrection topos with characteristics that are compared to an epic resurrection topos identified in the homeric tradition he then demonstrates how the two topoi merge in later novelistic texts of hellenistic judaism such as the gospel of mark witnessing to a widespread amalgamation of cultures that characterizes the hellenistic period this study supports a growing appreciation of the ethnic hybridity of the context that produced mark s gospel contributing to the work of scholars who question an often overdrawn dichotomy between jewish and greek culture in the hellenistic period moreover the significant influence of epic non biblical traditions upon the gospel becomes manifest without an assertion of direct dependence upon homeric epic overall the study provides a model for the examination of specific themes of the gospel in light of related ancient literature which enhances modern understanding and appreciation of mark s story

Fort Lupton Colorado is a beautiful and friendly little farming community of approximately seven thousand five hundred people situated on US Highway 85 about twenty nine miles north of Denver it is situated in an area not quite designated as in the foothills yet not far enough east to say it's a plains town either just somewhere in between summers are rocky mountain blue sky gorgeous with spring temperatures ranging from seventy five to over one hundred degrees in August and September wintertime can deal out twenty four to thirty six inches of snow or as little as twelve inches there seems to be an area bordered on the west by Interstate 25 on the east by US 85 and on the south by Interstate 70 which is more arid year after year in more recent times rainfall in summers seems to be minimal so many farmers irrigate their crops the Fort Lupton area receives more than three hundred days of sunshine every year I guess that the abundant sunshine is the main reason that I moved to Colorado in the first place

Risen indeed resurrection and doubt in the Gospel of Mark traces the literary dynamics and explores the theological dimensions of the Gospel of Mark's thematization of skepticism regarding resurrection in every place where it seems to depict resurrection Jesus's and others Mark evades the issue of whether resurrection actually occurs Austin Busch argues that despite Mark's abbreviated and ambiguous conclusion this Gospel does not downplay resurrection but rather foregrounds it imagining Jesus's death and restoration to life as a divine plot to overcome Satan through cunning deception.

various viewpoints scholars hold on these issues beale s work makes a major contribution in the much debated area of how the old testament is used in the apocalypse approaching revelation in terms of its own historical background and literary character beale argues convincingly that john s use of old testament allusions and the way the jewish exegetical tradition interpreted these same allusions provides the key for unlocking the meaning of revelation s many obscure metaphors in the course of beale s careful verse by verse exegesis which also untangles the logical flow of john s thought as it develops from chapter to chapter it becomes clear that revelation s challenging pictures are best understood not by apparent technological and contemporary parallels in the twentieth century but by old testament and jewish parallels from the distant past views were shaped by his understanding of the doctrine of the trinity torrance pursued a theology that was realist because he attempted to think in accordance with the unique nature of the object that is known in holding to such a methodology he drew an analogy between theology and natural science this book demonstrates how for torrance god relates with humanity within time and space so that creation finds its meaning in relation to god and not in itself this enabled him to avoid many theological pitfalls such as agnosticism subjectivism and dualism while explaining the positive implications of various christian doctrines in a penetrating and compelling manner this book offers an important resource for students of theology and for scholars who are interested in seeing how serious dogmatic theology shapes and should shape our understanding of the christian life this issue of the ministry contains a complete record of the twelve messages given during the 2008 summer training on the crystallization study of the gospel of luke held june 30 july 5 in anaheim california the crucial truth and burden embodied in these twelve messages may be summarized in the following two sets of statements the highest standard of morality is the living of the lord jesus as the man savior whose life was a composition of god with the divine attributes and man with the human virtues to be the basic factor for his dynamic salvation the man savior s god man living constituted a prototype for the reproduction of the god man in the believers who are reborn of the pneumatic christ in their spirit and transformed by the pneumatic christ in their soul in order to be one with the man savior in his god man living we need to sit at his feet and listen to his word so that we may be infused with his life for the expression of god and with his desire for our service to god unto the building of god by praying ourselves into god we are empowered in christ to repudiate ourselves renounce our material possessions and follow the man savior so that we may live in the reality of the economy of god to become rich toward god for the kingdom of god we need to be today s ministers and witnesses by living and proclaiming the gospel christ as the jubilee of grace for the accomplishing of god s eternal economy if we lose our soul life in this age and do not preserve it by lingering in the earthly and material things we may participate in the rapture of the overcomers and stand before the son of man on mount zion these messages are being published immediately following the training in order that they may benefit the saints who are participating in the many video trainings that are held throughout the earth
