Canada In The World

2020-07-25T00:00:00Z

an accessible and empirically rich introduction to canada s engagements in the world since confederation this book charts a unique path by locating canada s colonial foundations at the heart of the analysis canada in the world begins by arguing that the colonial relations with indigenous peoples represent the first example of foreign policy and demonstrates how these relations became a foundational and existential element of the new state colonialism the project to establish settler capitalism in north america and the ideological assumption that europeans were more advanced and thus deserved to conquer the indigenous people says shipley lives at the very heart of canada through a close examination of canadian foreign policy from crushing an indigenous rebellion in el salvador peacekeeping missions in the congo and somalia and cold war interventions in vietnam and indonesia to canadian participation in the war on terror canada in the world finds that this colonial heart has dictated canada s actions in the world since the beginning highlighting the continuities across more than 150 years of history shipley demonstrates that canadian policy and behaviour in the world is deep rooted and argues that changing this requires rethinking the fundamental nature of canada itself during the past century an enormous effervescence of events changed the sociopolitical configuration of the world the interpretation of these facts helped further deepen the crisis in which modern thought already found itself and it generated the uncertain and unstable environment in which we live today the so called postmodernity late modernity or hypermodernity in this context one of the most profound impacts is most certainly the one on religion during the twentieth century religion proved not to be banished from the human horizon as the masters of suspicion intended known as the godless century the twentieth century saw also a resuscitation of the search for the sense of life and spirituality with the crisis of modern reason humankind turned toward consumerism and provisional and light practices the last century represents not only the height of the postmodernization process but also the rescue of the transcendent and absolute even if it is an absolute without face and identity it is in this scenario that religious experiences apparently exiled by modern rationality begin to occur and multiply again mystical experiences will be then the basis for highlighting recurrent characteristics with universal import but they will show a different configuration than before one will be able to find them not in so called sacred spaces but in very secular ones not so much within institutions but at the borders or even outside them not configured by a specific tradition but in an interface that makes more than one tradition meet and dialogue how the world changed social media is the first book in why we post a book series that investigates the findings of anthropologists who each spent 15 months living in communities across the world this book offers a comparative analysis summarising the results of the research and explores the impact of social media on politics and gender education and commerce what is the result of the increased emphasis on visual communication are we becoming more individual or more social why is public social media so conservative why does equality online fail to shift inequality offline how did memes become the moral police of the internet supported by an introduction to the project s academic framework and theoretical terms that help to account for the findings the book argues that the only way to appreciate and understand something as intimate and ubiquitous as social media is to be immersed in the lives of the people who post only then can we discover how people all around the world have already transformed social media in such unexpected ways and assess the consequences why does our language divide up reality one way rather than another on what rational basis does our language contain certain kinds of general words rather than others hirsch shows that a language can be constructed which describes reality in ways we would find absurdly irrational for example by classifying normally disparate items under the same general term the apparent irrationality of the new language does not depend on its impoverished fact stating power as this may be equivalent to the fact stating power of ordinary language the problem then is to explain exactly what is wrong with it various options are explored and criticized such as the hypothesis that language must reflect an underlying objective distinction between natural kinds that there are pragmatic reasons for the way language functions as it does and that as a matter of metaphysical necessity strange ways of dividing up reality are constructions out of ordinary ways having demonstrated that this newly identified problem is in fact a serious one which cannot be easily solved or brushed aside hirsch offers his own suggestions for a possible solution instant new york times bestseller one of the most important books i ve ever read an indispensable guide to thinking clearly about the world bill gates hans rosling tells the story of the secret silent miracle of human progress as only he can but factfulness does much more than that it also explains why progress is so often secret and silent and teaches readers how to see it clearly melinda gates factfulness by hans rosling an outstanding international public health expert is a hopeful book about the potential for human progress when we work off facts rather than our inherent biases former u s president barack obama factfulness the stress reducing habit of only carrying opinions for which you have strong supporting facts when asked simple questions about global trends what percentage of the world s population live in poverty why the world s population is increasing how many girls finish school we systematically get the answers wrong so wrong that a chimpanzee choosing answers at random will consistently outguess teachers journalists nobel laureates and investment bankers in factfulness professor of international health and global ted phenomenon hans rosling together with his two long time collaborators anna and ola offers a radical new explanation of why this happens they reveal the ten instincts that distort our perspective from our tendency to divide the world into two camps usually some version of us and them to the way we consume media where fear rules to how we perceive progress believing that most things are getting worse our problem is that we don t know what we don t know and even our guesses are informed by unconscious and predictable biases it turns out that the world for all its imperfections is in a much better state than we might think that doesn t mean there aren t real concerns but when we worry about everything all the time instead of embracing a worldview based on facts we can lose our ability to focus on the things that threaten us most inspiring and revelatory filled with lively anecdotes and
