The perception that our nation's public schools are disorderly and unsafe is widespread, and the image of the public school is deteriorating. Since 1974, the Gallup Organization has gathered opinions about the public schools. The percentage giving the schools an A rating declined from 18 to 6 between 1974 and 1983. Gallup 1974-1984. In a recent survey of America's teenagers, only 9% gave the schools an A rating. Bahner 1980, p. 106. Lack of discipline tops the list of the problems adults see facing schools and class.

disturbances and theft are reported by teenagers to be very big or fairly big problems in their schools bahner 1980 p 107 these public perceptions are fostered by and reflected in national media attention city schools in crisis 1977 help teacher can t teach 1980 high schools under fire 1977 public concern is also reflected in congressional hearings where testimony creates the image of grave disorder within our schools u s senate committee on the judiciary 1975 1976b u s house of representatives subcommittee on elementary secondary and vocational education 1980 the public has given the schools low marks and the senate judiciary committee 1975 gave the schools an a in violence and vandalism in short parents students and public officials are alarmed at what they see as a rising tide of violence and disorder in the schools and are concerned about how much learning can occur in a disruptive environment and about the safety of teachers and students
