it s often said a child s lifelong love of reading begins at home but declining literacy rates among the nation s public elementary school students suggests this maxim needs revision for reading to become an everyday habit it needs to be nurtured in a home of its own fortunately there is space available inside most elementary schools at just 5 percent of a school s total real estate the school library is the most powerful and efficient way to reach 100 percent of the student body but far too many of the nation s public school libraries lack even the most basic resources to support learning and encourage achievement the nonprofit l brary initiative created by the robin hood foundation has been working since 2001 to enhance student literacy and overall academic achievement by collaborating with school districts to design build equip and staff new elementary school libraries the l brary book takes readers behind the scenes of fifty groundbreaking library projects to show how widely varied fields and communities corporate underwriters children s book publishers architects graphic designers product manufacturers library associations teachers and students can join forces to make a difference in the lives of children based on the premise that good library design can actually inspire learning the library initiative brings together some of the world's leading architects to reimagine the elementary school libraries in new york city the nation's largest public school system working on a pro bono basis architecture firms including 1100 architects weiss manfredi architects della valle bernheimer tod williams billie tsien architects and dean wolf architects have in just eight years built or transformed more than fifty libraries into vital resources for the whole school community these libraries both beautiful learning spaces and innovative architecture feature a wide range of design solutions including creative uses of space color lighting and furniture author and former library initiative director anooradha iyer siddiqi documents every project with beautiful photos as well as renderings and measured drawings the library book concludes with the chapter how to make a library which shows how community organizers and architects can pursue similar initiatives in their own communities concrete is well known to behave efficiently in fire conditions as it is incombustible does not emit smoke and provides good thermal insulation furthermore in reinforced concrete structures the concrete cover gives a natural protection to the reinforcement and the size of the sections often delays the heating of the core thus favouring the fire resistance of the structural members in addition concrete structures are often robust and therefore able to accommodate local damage without major consequences to the overall structural integrity however past experience with real fires shows that a thorough understanding of concrete behaviour and structural mechanics is still needed to improve the design of r c structures with respect to fire the objective of fib bulletin 46 is to augment the current knowledge about concrete and concrete structures under fire not only for the design of new structures but also for the analysis and repair of existing fire damaged structures both structural and materials issues are examined and the results of the most recent research activities on the structural performance of concrete subjected to fire are reported special attention is paid to the indirect actions caused by the restrained thermal deformations and several basic examples show how a local fire influences global structural behaviour fib bulletin 46 is intended for use by practicing engineers to improve their understanding of the behaviour of concrete structures in fire and thereby produce better and safer design standards presented in my journey through ink and paint is the mind of a pensive wanderer who journeys through a world of colors this work depicts abstract art in a stylish evolution of colors through contrasting blending or complementing one color with another juxtaposed on it the color movement is like a flow chart of events created by nature during a rainbow formed by the sun and raindrops this technique can be seen in the wilderness mind eleganza and others in the book my journey through ink and paint is a compilation of abstract art drawn over the years through enjoyable and sad moments beauty is in the eye of the beholder so it is said christopher for simplicity s sake described most of his abstract art in the book and left some for others to describe according to how they view each image like in the well known phrase a picture is worth a thousand words the viewers can always have varied opinions about a particular piece of art the driving forces that influenced christopher into a continuous habit of drawing abstract art can be found in the motivational notes within his book
